As a guest of the Embassy of the Islamic Republic of Iran in Budapest, Ali Sarlak, professor of the Tehran University of Art paid a visit to National Széchényi Library on May 24, 2019. He was received by Dr. László Tüske, Director-General of NSZL, and following that, he had a look at Persian text monuments kept in our Manuscript Collection.

National Széchényi Library plays an important role in building cultural relations between the two countries. In 2018, Dr. László Tüske was guest of honor at the International Book Fair in Tehran, where he signed a cooperation agreement with the National Library and Archives of I.R. Iran.
